BLAIRMORE WILL BE CENTRE OF ATTRACTION ON JULY 1ST

At a meeting of the 12th Operatory Association held in Calgary last week, it was decided that competition in mine rescue and first aid be held on July 1st at Blairmore.

Last year these competitions were staged in the Drumheller coal mine district, where over 1500 people from all corners of Alberta and the British Columbia coal mining districts assembled.

Blairmore is fortunate in having been selected for this year's competition, and it is up to the public of The Park and Blairmore in particular, to see that nothing will be lacking in the way of accommodation and entertainment on that occasion for being more centrally located than even Drumheller, it is up to reconcile to expect that thousands of two thousand people from outside points will invade our town and be our guests for two full days. A meeting will be called in a few days when the question of programme will be considered.

SERGEANT SEARLE DROWNED ON PATROL NEAR CRESTON

The sad news flashed through the district on Sunday morning of the drowning of Sergeant Searle, which occurred near Creston. Sergeant Searle was for some time connected with the Blairmore detachment of the Royal North West Mounted Police as a constable, when Corporal Meade was in charge of this detachment.
On the transfer of Corporal Meade to Prince Albert, Searle was promoted to Corporal, later being transferred to Fincher Creek where he married a sister of Mrs. Dr. Connor, of Lethbridge. Later he served with the R.C.M.P. at Medicine Hat and was at Lethbridge last winter and was stationed at the gate of the Lethbridge skating rink when Supt. Penny-father undertook the difficult task of handling the "roughnecks" of Blairmore. This spring he was transferred to Creston, chiefly on account of his wife's health. He and another member of the force were fording a river, which had risen
two feet since the patrol had gone out, and Searle and his horse were both drowned, despite the efforts of his companion to save him.

Sergeant Searle was considered one of the most capable officers of the R.C.M.P. and carried a number of decorations for conspicuous services.

THE BASEBALL SEASON OPENS

The big leagues are already racing for the pennant, and the amateur and professional clubs in all parts of the country will soon be playing their opening games. Golfing and racing will soon be in full swing, and interest in sport in general is becoming keener with the coming of the summer months.

To keep in touch with the sporting events, near and far, and to ensure your securing authentic reports you should read the sport section of The Calgary Daily Herald. Bigger and better than ever it is the medium that all lovers of sport look to for sporting news. The special features on the sporting page are alone worth many times the cost of Alberta's greatest newspaper, which is but 2-3 c. a day.

Everybody should do something to add to the appearance of the street on which he lives.

Rev. W. T. Young, H. Peters,
and A. Newman left for Lethbridge by motor this morning, where they will attend the Methodist district meeting.

DOMINION CENSUS

On the 1st of June the Dominion Statistician will take the Sixth Census of population and agriculture.

To the thinking person the accuracy for a census is manifest. The census is required in connection with the distribution of seats under our representative government and in knowing the needs and educational advantages of the various parts of the Dominion. The census of agriculture is of greatest value in determining the needs of our farmers and ranchers in connection with railway, postal, telephone and highway services. Up to date tabulated information is a necessity to the welfare of any civilized country.

In previous censuses enumerators have sometimes encountered persons who had objections to answering questions regarding their affairs, supposing no doubt that this information would be published or used for taxation purposes. There is no ground for such apprehension. The Dominion Bureau of Statistics is a Department of the Government which is absolutely closed to everyone except those actually employed therein and even employees in the Bureau from the Dominion Statistician down to the enumerators in the field are sworn to accuracy.

The Bureau is interested only in tabulated results, and the Premier himself cannot have any information other than the same is published by the Dominion Statistician. The individual record is closed to all save those employees who must see it to get out the various returns for the information published by the Statistician. Even in unusual circumstances like the late war the individual record was absolutely private. We understand that the Department of Militia during the recent war thought they should have access to the unpublished information in the Bureau in searching for defectors but this information was refused. The Government instructions to enumerators forbid discussing any information obtained in the enumeration.

The Lamp In The Window

By Frank Wall

It was just a little cottage, standing in a corner of what had once been old John Humphreys' farm. John Humphreys was dead and the cottage had been merged long ago in the august grounds of the house built by some unknown millionaire on the crest of the hill.

There were all kinds of rumors about that house, but the only facts were that no one had ever seen the owner or had often heard his name. The house, a palace in white with broad terraces and smooth sloping lawns, was exquisitely furnished, but only the caretaker and the scrub-woman enjoyed its perfections. Day by day and year by year it stood there, a monument to the past, and at night the moon played quaintly about its white walls and cast long slanting shadows across the lawns; and that was the only sign of life there for almost twenty years.

The little cottage stood near the road and was occupied by old John Humphreys' son. He kept himself aloof from his neighbors and was not very popular. They said he had no social ability, no human feelings, and perhaps they were right. Ordinarily his face was like a mask, but one sunset came and he placed his little lamp in the window overlooking the road, it softened into an extraordinary tenderness. If the neighbors could have seen him then, they might have changed their opinion of him.

And this had gone on for nearly twenty years. Every night he lighted the little lamp and when he had lighted it he sat by the window watching and watching and watching for someone who never came.

Sometimes there were noisy parties who had motored down from New York, which was only fifty miles away, and they would come and ask for something to eat. He gave them the best he had, and then he would go back to his corner and stare down the unanswering road.

One night a furious storm broke over that part of the country. The rain came down in torrents and the vivid flashes of lightning made the big house on the hill appear even more impressive and beautiful. After he had lighted his little lamp, he stood watching the storm, and it was while he was so occupied that he saw an automobile toiling painfully up the steep slope of the road. It came to a standstill opposite the cottage and half a dozen people alighted and hurried up the little path.

They were all young except one, a very beautiful woman of about forty years of age. The others addressed her as Madame Lesia, the cottager, sitting quietly in his corner, recalled her name as that of a great singer who, after years of struggle, had recently taken New York by storm.

They were all artists of one kind or another, full of wild spirits, mocking every convention; and the one they called Madame Lesia was the wildest of them all. Yet there was this difference, that her wildness seemed to be forced. It was as though it struggled all the time with some deeper feeling, as though some secret force of her heart had been touched and she wished to hide it.

"Let us ask Madame Lesia," cried one in the midst of a furious argument; and the singer turned smilingly.

"Jack Mouniford says that if he were married he would sacrifice even his wife's happiness to his art, it need be; that art is supreme."

"And you, Helen?"

The girl laughed vivaciously and yet with an undercurrent of sadness. "I don't know," she murmured, "I want to be famous but I want to be happy too. Is it not possible to be both, Madame?"

The singer was staring at a photograph that stood on a side-table. It was a girl of perhaps twenty-three or twenty-four years of age, dressed in some cheap material, obviously village-made, but one scarcely noticed that for the transfiguring happiness that shone in her face.

"Do you see that girl?" she said quietly. "Do you notice how plainly she is dressed? And that cheap little wedding ring at which she is staring so intently? That girl isn't famous yet—she looks happy. And I," she added, as though speaking to herself, "I am what you call famous, but I am not happy."

The cottager had left his corner, by the window as though drawn by the sadness in the singer's voice. "That is my wife," he said hoarsely. "We lived near here, but the lure of New York crept like a poison into her veins. She thought she could become famous and she left me."

"Some day perhaps..." said the singer softly.

"Every night I light my little lamp in the window and watch for her return," said the man passionately. "Always I hope that she will come back to the simple happiness she cast aside for the glitter you call fame."

Madame Lesia rose suddenly. "We all hope so," she said earnestly. "See, my friends, the storm is over. Who will prepare the car for the journey back?"

The young men of the party raced out all at once and the girls followed a moment later. Madame Lesia turned to the cottager. Her eyes were shining. "They told me you had gone abroad," she said.

The man lifted his hands in a gesture of despair. "For twenty years I have waited here," he said. "And now you have come back, but you are famous. This humble life will appeal to you less than ever."

"I want you," she whispered, "that is all I care about. I would have spoken as soon as I saw you, but I was afraid. And as for the fame you speak of... it means nothing to me."

Her companions were calling her. The man went to the window and took down the little lamp he had tended so faithfully.

"It is for you to decide," he said solemnly. "God knows I want you, but there is no bitterness in my heart now. If you decide to go back to your great world I will put out this light and there is an end of all my hopes."

The others were at the door now, and the poet and hood by her husband. "This is how I answer that question, Helen," she said to the girl. "I left my husband twenty years ago. I have tasted all that fame can offer and now I come back home. You must go on to New York without me."

"No," cried the man in a ringing voice. "I have something else to say. You tired of me because you said I wasted too much time on that invention I was working on. Well, I justified my ambition as you justified yours." He went across the room and pulled aside the curtain, showing the big house on the crest of the hill, glorious in the moonlight. "That is the result of my invention," he cried. "That is the home to which you have come back."

A Matter Of Sense.

Cardinal Bourne is quite clear that there can be no complete separation of Ireland and England. He does not believe that the Irish want it. For this is a matter, not so much of sentiment, but of sense. Ireland cannot live without Great Britain, and from the standpoint of national defense it may be said that Great Britain cannot live without Ireland. The sooner that dream disappears the better. The Argonaut.

A Man's Weight In Gold.

How much is a billion dollars? One billion worth of coin silver would make a cube nearly fifty feet on an edge. If you were worth your weight in silver that would not make you rich. The weight of a 180-pound man would be balanced on the scales with $2,500 worth of coin silver. His weight in coined gold would be worth only $40,000.

The present year marks the 400th anniversary of the death of Ponce de Leon, the discoverer of Florida.

A HAVEN FOR SUMMER

BY LORETTO C. LYNCH
An Acknowledged Expert In All Matters Pertaining to Household Management.

"We are five women who have secured a summer abode where our duties may have a good time and to which our husbands may commute daily. It is close to the seashore. The house, however, is very old, and by pooling our funds we were able to purchase it at a low figure."

The men will do the necessary repairs, but it is up to the women to provide for furnishings, and for these we have not much money. There are three large rooms on the first floor and two large ones on the second floor. There is an old chimney on the place which, I believe, may be repaired as to provide the house with water. Any suggestions will be appreciated."

When I read this letter I almost envied these fortunate women. It is a fine plan in these days of high prices, and with certain alterations will undoubtedly be most comfortable during the warm days to come.

Plan to use one of the large rooms on the first floor as a dining room. Have the men construct a long table with folding legs. Use folding camp chairs. Cover the table with plain white oilcloth. Should you care to use this room for a dancing party the tables and chairs may be folded up and placed away.

The porch adjoining the front room, which you described in your letter, should be repaired and enlarged and then screened in. It could be used for a family sitting room.

Plan to use one of the rooms on the first floor as a room for reading or study, or, on occasion, a guest bedroom.

The other room will, of course, be the kitchen and laundry combined. Adjoining the kitchen, or, entirely separate from it, have the men construct a bathroom. If the windmill is working well, arrange to have it supply water to this bathroom. A shower might be arranged. Several partitions might be made so that several may don bathing costumes at the same time.

The larger room on the upper floor might be partitioned with curtains, or it may be made into berths, one above the other, ship fashion. The larger room might accommodate the women and children and the men might have the other room.

Good mattresses and springs are expensive. Personally, if you are within commuting distance, I should prefer to have the beds and bedding brought from home by motor.

You say you have not much money to spend on furniture. Most every family has on hand some article of furniture which seems too good to throw away and yet of which they would gladly dispose. Why not have each of the four families look over their household? No matter what the finish may be, sandpaper it down and use mission brown or gray finish on the furniture. Seats made of cretonne or checked gingham are suitable. Avoid, however, white in any form for the summer cottage.

For the wall paper choose some of the composition boards, which we find on the modern market. A cool green finished board of this type was seen in a seashore cottage last year. The furniture was mission brown—made over to this shade—and the kerosene lamp had a shade of soft-toned yellow.

The floor had had its cracks filled with one of the patent fillers on the market and had been stained dark brown and waxed. Here and there was a green grass rug.

It is my suggestion that each lady do the entire housekeeping for one entire day, with the children, perhaps, assisting her in turn on the dishwashing. In this way, each of the five women will have four days' rest out of every five.

Fuel From Sawdust

California Has Been Successful In Solving Problem.

A sample of fuel from sawdust has been received in New Westminster by the Board of Trade from Mr. Walter Thomas, of Eureka, California. Methods of making fuel from sawmill waste have been experimented with in the New Westminster district for many years, but so far none have been evolved that proved to be suitable as a commercial proposition. Apparently the problem has been solved by Mr. Thomas, who is now considering establishing a plant in this district, and is enquiring as to a site.

Police Force Strengthened Provision Made for Enforcing Law at Fort McMurray.

The importance of Fort McMurray as a jumping off place for the great north land, and the fact that the townsite is at the end of the steel of the Alberta & Great Waterways line, has resulted in the Alberta Provincial Police strengthening their Ft. McMurray detachment. It is the anticipation of the police that additional police protection will be required at the steel's end.

Constable J. Smith, formerly of the detachment at Clyde, left Edmonton for Fort McMurray recently and will take up his post at that point and co-operate with Constable J. B. McDonald who has been stationed at Fort McMurray for the past three or four years. Two men will also be stationed at Lac la Biche, these being Constables Moses and McCarthy.

Not the Ireland of History

According to Government Murders Are Committed by Imported G-men.

The dragging of a woman out of her humble home in the dead of night and shooting her to death, heedless of her pitiful appeals for mercy, and riddling her poor body with bullets under the open sky—surely this is not Ireland! Certainly, it is not the Ireland of history, in whose pages we find chivalry and tenderness and pity and gallant service rendered to worthy causes by a high-spirited race, who thrill to what is noble and poetic, and find a catch in the throat for all things lovely and exalted.

The Government must be right; and the murders which suffuse the cheek with shame are committed by gangs of ruffians who have been prime scoundrels for whom the sacredness of human life does not exist and who will kill for wages, without compunction or remorse. It must be so, for it is incredible that any Irishman would commit the ineffable crime of murdering a helpless woman, whose appeal for mercy could not be withstood by the fiercest savages.

Bulgarian Labor Law Now In Operation

All Classes of Society Have Been Called to Fulfill Service Duties.

All classes of society in Bulgaria have been called upon to fulfill their service duties under the provision of the compulsory labor law, which was adopted a year ago. The law provided that men who had attained the age of 20 years and girls who were 16 years old, were to be called upon for a certain amount of compulsory labor for the state. Men were to work 12 months and women six months and none was allowed to emigrate until duties imposed had been performed. The number of persons coming within the scope of the law was 700,000, of whom 600,000 had been at work, the labor done comprising road making, sanitary service, digging of canals, street paving and the building of schools and reading rooms.

Lack of Home Training.

There are four hundred boys under twenty years of age in the penitentiaries of Canada, according to General W. S. Hughes, Superintendent of Penitentiaries. General Hughes is undoubtedly right in putting a large share of the blame on the lack of proper training in the home—Orilla Packet.

The National Concern

All Social Progress Is Dependent On Good Health.

Good health is, at least it should be made, a matter of community and national welfare; for much of what we call social progress is dependent on it. It is a fact worthy of consideration that a sum of not less than $700,000,000 in wages is lost through ill-health each year in the United States alone. On an average we lose something like seven days a year from our working time, and when this is multiplied by the number of workers in this country, the sum total is a surprisingly large number.—From the Detroit News.

Evidence Of Progress.

To provide for extensions to the government telephone system in the province of Manitoba and to erect new public buildings this year $3,870,000 has been voted by the Provincial Legislature.

Many Families Moving Household Goods and Stock.

A party of twenty families from California passed through New Westminster recently to look at farming lands in the northeast part of British Columbia. Most of these families have already bought acreage, and are moving in their household effects, stock and implements.

Tile Plant For Winnipeg.

Plans for the erection this fall, or early next spring, of the first unit of a brick tile and glazed tile manufacturing plant in Winnipeg are now completed, according to C. L. Thompson, manager of the Martin Engineering Company, of Niagara Falls, Ontario. The first unit will have a capacity of 20,000 face brick a year. Deposits of clay used in the manufacture of red buff fine brick are known to exist in close proximity to the city.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrup. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulence, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. J. H. MacEwen, then elected first mayor of Pincher Creek.

A contract has been let for the drilling of an artesian well for the town of Pincher Creek.

Born in Coleman on Friday, May 25th, to the Rev. T. M. and Mrs. Murray, a son.

The citizens of Macleod have voted to put in a waterworks system to cost $35,000.

J. A. McDonald, of Blairmore has been elected secretary of District 18 of the U. M. W. of A.

H. A. Parks, a skilled druggist, is now in charge of the Coleman drug store.

Cranbrook trimmed Frank's lacrosse team on Thursday by a score of 2 to 1.

It is reported that the town of Pincher Creek is partly under water and that the steel bridge is washed away.

Owing to the prevailing weather, the 24th of May celebration at Cowley had to be postponed. It was over this.

The C.P.R. have established a division point at Crow's Nest and are preparing to put in a round house and side track there.

Jack Fisher is now the general micrologist who asks you "What'll you have?" when you enter the Blairmore hotel bar.

On Thursday morning, Miss Nellie Higgins, second daughter of Mrs. W. Evans, of Coleman, died after only a few days illness, aged 13.

Frank intends to hold quite a celebration on June 5th, when the home team will meet the lacrosse club of Taber on the home ground.

The West Canadian Collieries are now producing an average of over one thousand tons of coal per day from their Bellevue mine.

Standing room was at a premium on Wednesday evening at the opera house for the Juvenile Bostonsians. "Tina" was presented by the company and was well received by the audience.

On Monday many of the visiting hotel men took advantage of the offer of the Canadian Metal Co. of Frank, to inspect their smelter, which is now all but completed.

The ground is being prepared near the mouth of the slope of the International Coal and Coke Co. for the erection of a large stone fireproof building for use as a lamp room and offices.

Owing to the late heavy rains, Turtle Mountain is shifting down considerable rock from the side of the big slide and as a result for nervous people that town is at present a decided failure.

At a meeting held in Fernie last week, the United Workers of America selected Blairmore as their headquarters for District 18, which includes the East Kootenay and all of Alberta.

The mines of the International Coal and Coke Co. at Coleman are now turning out for shipment over 1200 tons of screened coal per day. Besides, 125 tons of coke are being shipped to B. C. towns every day.

The zinc smelter at Frank, which has been building for nearly a year, is expected to start up in a few days. This is the largest industrial undertaking yet built in the province and will give employment to a large number of men.

The Cowley sports were held this week, under favorable conditions. A good programme was staged. The baseball game, scheduled to take place between Blairmore and Cowley was not played, owing to the Cowley boys flunking out at the last minute.

On Monday evening, May 21st, the many friends of A. Mammel, of the Frank hotel, who returned from his wedding trip on Sunday, gave him a genuine old-fashioned welcome home. If Mr. and Mrs. Mammel's popularity can be gauged by the number who attended the banquet given in their honor, they have nothing but well-wishers in the Pass towns.

On Tuesday, the Pass Tuff Association was formed here with a capital of $5,000, divided into 1000 shares of $5.00 each. The incorporators are O. L. S. Whiteside, W. A. Beebe, Harry J. Matheson, H. E. Lyon, James Douglass, D. C. Drain and George Hunt. The object of the association is to build and maintain an up-to-date race track and athletic ground to be used in common by the Pass towns. The arrangements have already been completed with the West Canadian Collieries for a lease of grounds suitable for the purpose.

Shaw - Aylward Nuptials

The marriage of Mr. William Shaw, of Lethbridge, district manager for P. Burns & Co., to Miss Georgia Price Aylward, of Hawkeley, N. B., was celebrated at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Vancouver, B. C., on Friday, May 18th, the Rev. J. S. Henderson, D. D., officiating. After visiting various coastal points, Mr. and Mrs. Shaw will return to Lethbridge, where they will reside.

Mr. and Mrs. Shaw carry with them their very best wishes of Mr. Shaw's many friends through this district.

Cowley Happenings

George Cruickshank, of Hillcrest paid a visit here last Sunday. C. Gibson, of the weights and measures department, was an unobtrusive visitor this week.

Mrs. Maphin, of Victoria, an old time resident of Cowley, is spending a few weeks here visiting friends.

As a result of the visit of Mr. Phelps of the health department, several small orders were served on residents to clean up, but as a whole he expressed himself as satisfied with conditions.

The whist drive on Saturday night was well attended, despite the lateness of the season. Bill Bains and Mrs. Robert Littleton were the fortunate prize winners.

The Pincher Creek ball team came to Cowley on Monday evening and were defeated in a practice game with Cowley by a score of 11 to 5. The league officially opened yesterday, when Coleman played Cowley on Cowley grounds.

A dance will be given in the Odd-fellows' hall at Bellevue on the night of Friday, May the 27th.

A public meeting will be held in the Union church on Thursday evening, May 26th, at 8 o'clock when a speaker from Calgary will give an address on Red Cross work in peace times. Also a short musical program will be given. Everybody welcome. Come and hear what the juniors are doing for the orphaned children and so get into the Red Cross campaign which closes June 5th at 11th.

Concert on Third Day

The concert on the third day of the Chautauqua was a most successful one. The program was well received by the audience. The Crayon Wizard, Pitt Parkes, was the featured attraction. The Crayon Wizard is a most successful artist. The Crayon Wizard is a most successful artist. The Crayon Wizard is a most successful artist.

A Profitable Deal

A man said in a sanctimonious tone one evening to his wife: "How happy I am this evening, dear! I have done three good deeds today."

"What were they?" inquired his wife.

"On the way to business," said he, "I saw a young woman weeping on a church step with a baby on her knee. I asked her what the trouble was, and she said that she had walked seven miles to have her baby christened and now found that she had lost her money on the way."

"I told her to cheer up, handed her a ten dollar bill, and told her to have the child christened, and bring me the change. She did so—and thus, my dear, I did three good deeds. I performed, didn't I?"

"You certainly started second," said his wife, "but you should have had a good change for a bad ten spot."

Cut out the baseball schedule found elsewhere in this issue, put it in a prominent place or carry it in your vest-pocket.

OUR MODERN DANCES

The editor of the Brooks Bulletin is apparently not in sympathy with the latest dances as the following witness:

Something should be done to get dancing back to a safe and sane basis. To see young girls in our midst learning the ungraceful lunge, duck dip, the fade-away glide, the cheek to cheek, in nauseating, and what about the girl that hangs her chin over her partner's shoulder and allows her face to register the expression of a dying tuna fish, waving signals of distress to its mate? It's bad enough to see feminine class doing this but to witness the male sex is a whole lot worse.

A drowning accident happened West Coleman on Thursday last, when Hilbert Hill, son of Charles Hill, who with two or three other little chaps went out flower picking, fell into the waters of the Old Man River and was drowned while attempting to rescue his cap.

The following is a schedule of the Crow's Nest Baseball League for 1931. The games are to be played on the grounds of the last mentioned town in each case.

Pincher Creek and Cowley have the option of moving their games with Michel within eight days of the date scheduled, as it is a long journey and the roads may not always permit them making it on schedule date. Michel, of course, has the same option of playing their games with the two above mentioned towns within eight days of the schedule.

A LETTERHEAD

"My word, of course I have felt anxious, according to my message, I often have responsibilities," said D. L. Litchfield.

"Amongst the millions of my kind the element of pride is not lacking, and we, who are worthy of class distinction, feel lowered when the thro' is not given the responsibility we bear."

"We carry the signed word of Hon. our begetter, Personality of the writer."

"We carry the words of suggestion as well as the negative of suggestion. We are responsible for the contract terms, for the man whose signature we back as well as the acceptance of agreement."

"We carry the wills and words of law and decisions of mankind. We deal with loans and bonds and securities."

"We are in the service of man but cannot speak that he may choose freely; rather, he must specify, and to specify correctly he must know the true quality of our various kind."

"Man's signature is his bond, law and in business practice. We he not occasionally think of the responsibility he puts upon us and we, who are as he values his own bond and signature, choose according to our worthiness."

The congregation of a Sapakton church was thrown into a state of consternation one Sunday morning when during the course of a vigorous sermon on the text, "I will spew fire out of my mouth," the preacher dropped his also text. The artificial bicucules clattered from the pulpit to the floor below. On the verge of hysteria the wife of the preacher hurried forward and recovered the text, but in the fall they had become bent and could not be fitted back in the minister's jaw. In confusion, the minister quickly closed the service and the worshippers hurried homeward.

From British Columbia the report comes of splendid fruit crop prospects. The strawberries will be more plentiful, sweeter, juicier and cheaper than ever before.

Bell Ringers' Quartette

Real bell ringers are coming to Chautauqua audiences this summer. Every where they go they are a sensation. They have a complete set of genuine Swiss bells and certainly know how to handle them. They ring and sing to your heart's content, this talented quartet, a two-in-one company, in that they sing, playing their own accompaniments on the bells. Can you imagine anything more beautiful? Come out on the first day and get in tune from the bells and then stay in tune and ring true all the rest of Chautauqua and you will spend one of the happiest weeks of your lives. Don't forget the Bell Ringing and Singing Male Quartet.

Dixie Girls' Quartette

These are the original Dixie Girls this you will not be disappointed. You will be delighted with the old negro spirituals which they give. Four beautiful singers, four excellent readers, four talented musicians, four intelligent and experienced young ladies. This company brings plenty of good cheer, plenty of melody and plenty of entertainment.

Agnes C. Laut

"I am troubled as want I see Canada," says Agnes C. Laut, Canadian writer, whom Chautauqua takes pleasure in announcing for the summer sessions. "Here this country is," she says, "at a time when the earth is here for the asking, but she is not taking the tide at the flood. Canada is at the cross-roads."

And "Canada at the Cross-roads" of destiny will be the subject of her lecture as she comes to the Chautauqua. Though Miss Laut is full of optimism for this vast Dominion, she is no hollower of existing conditions.

Her mother is a cousin of Britain's remarkable premier, David Lloyd George.

The Ad and the Man

"I saw an ad from day to day
And registered: I defy it;
T'was stuff may be just what they say
But I'm not going to buy it."

"A time wore on he made remarking
It would not do to mention,
For he was mad because that ad
Was forced on his attention."

"It's a week, or two, or three,
He said: 'There's no denying T'way that ad gets hold of me—'

The stuff may be worth trying.

For just about a fortnight more
He dared never words to win him,
And then the ad completely had Around the spender in him."

Next day he drifted in a store
And quietly expended A few big iron dollars for
The stuff the ad commended."

He found it filled a long-felt need;
His excellence surprised him,
And now he's glad because the ad
So deftly hypnotized him."

No Irish There

(Two Jews in a street car.) First Jew: "I'll never go by Far Rock away again for de summer. Nothing but Irish everywhere."

Second Jew: "It's de same at Saratoga, Abbey; it's alive mit Irish. I wish I could go vere dere was no Irish."

Mrs. Cleary (on the opposite seat): "Yes sen both go to h—; y'll and no Irish there."

Coleman Happenings

William Lee and wife are visiting the hot springs at Halcro, B. C.

Preparations are being made for the painting of the Institutional church.

Mrs. Bob Evans, Mrs. Haine and Mrs. J. Houghton leave in the near future for the Old Sod.

Mrs. James Scott and son Charles leave for Winnipeg, Ont., and other parts east next week.

Jerry Riddell arrived in Coleman, after having spent the fall and winter at the University of Toronto.

"Michel 10—Coleman 7." Nuff said! Michel claims to be invincible on his own grounds. We wonder why?

Coleman Juveniles took a fall-out of Blairmore Junior for the one of 14 to 2 in a game of ball on Monday last.

Joe Michalsky is erecting an addition to his present store. He intends, we believe, to put in a stock of hardware.

Word has been received from Mr. and Mrs. Disney, who are in the Old Country at present. The judge reports that he and his wife are much improved in health.

The roads through and west of town are being re-gravelled. Some people claim that this is being done by the liquor interests of B. C., but we are quite certain that this is not so.

Frank Coll sold his business recently and the new proprietors are renovating the building. A new front has been added and the whole place has a most business-like appearance.

A large store is being erected in West Coleman, to be used for a general business. It is controlled by a joint stock company and a complete line of up-to-date general and dry goods will be handled.

The medals for the Coleman football team—winners of the league last year—have arrived and are the finest medals ever given in this part of the country. They will be presented in the near future.

The McGillivray Creek Coal & Coke Co. intend to add a stecco finish to the large boarding house erected in Caribou last fall. This will put the finishing touches on one of the finest buildings of its kind in the country.

Tennis is in full swing. The courts have been rolled and laid, the fence repaired and now nothing hangs. The courts are so enticing in appearance that it is rumored that Secretary MacDonald is more than swamped with membership applications.

Alex. Morrison has had a cement foundation put under his garage and is laying a cement sidewalk in front of the building. This is certainly an improvement and a step in the right direction. If the other property holders would but follow suit, we would soon have a respectable looking street.

The Coleman Golf Club has completed the laying of sand and oil greens and now claim to have one of the best courses in Southern Alberta. Tees and sand boxes will be installed later. The Club boasts of a membership of fifty and a successful season is looked forward to.

A sad accident occurred west of Coleman on Thursday, May 12, when the young son of Charles Hill was drowned in the river. Together with some other children, the boy was gathering flowers on the bank of the stream, when he slipped into the water and before help arrived he was beyond recovery.

The Canadian Patriotic Fund still has $6,100,000 on hand, and from that fund monthly assistance is being given to 566 families and this assistance will be continued for some time to come.

Lewis Davis, farmer and old-timer of the Macleod district, committed suicide on Saturday last by blowing the top off his head with a rifle. No brains were found.

The McLaren Lumber Co. mill resumed sawing operations on Monday. The company have an unusual supply of logs which will keep the mill running at full blast for some time.

Alfred Hale Julian, fourteen years old, was killed instantly while playing with a revolver belonging to a boarder at a Lethbridge house on Monday.

MAY ROD AND GUN

Among the other interesting stories and articles of outdoor life in Canada that appear in Rod and Gun in Canada for May, is one entitled, "A Wonderful Salmon Expedition." This describes an expedition after the "big fellows" in Newfoundland. For the fishermen there are two other stories: "Falling From Grace" and "The Heart Cure" in this issue of Canada's outdoor magazine. "Hunting Black Duck" and "The Fox on Gun Hunting" as the titles indicate, are hunting stories that will appeal to the devotees of rifle and shot gun. Great interest is being shown in the big game hunting articles written by A. Bryan Williams; one installment of his splendid series of articles appears in this issue. Fishing Notes and Guns and Ammunition Department, as well as the other departments, are up to their usual high standards. Rod and Gun in Canada is published monthly by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ontario.

LEADER'S TRAINING CAMPS

The Girls' Work Board of Alberta is conducting this summer three training camps for leaders of girls and teen-age girls of fifteen to eighteen who are interested in the Canadian Girls in Training program.
These camps are being held as follows:

Leaders' Training Camp at Fallis,
July 1-3.

(Fees, including board and registration $12.00.)

Older Girls' Training Camp at Sylvan Lake, July 13-23.

Older Girls' Training Camp at Fallis, July 25-Aug. 4.

(Fees, including board and registration, $15.00.)

Land and water sports of all kinds are a large feature of the daily schedule, as well as courses in Bible Study and youth-while talks on various subjects of interest to leaders and girls. A better holiday, under more congenial and happy surroundings would be hard to imagine.

Any woman interested in girls, and any girls between fifteen and eighteen years of age are eligible to attend, but as accommodation in all three camps is limited, those applying first must necessarily receive first consideration. Also those applying as delegates from Sunday Schools or similar organizations will have a prior claim.

Folders, explaining in detail the Camp Program and particulars will be sent on request from the office of the Girls' Work Board, 302 I.O.O.F. Bldg.,
Calgary. As registrations close June 15th, requests for folders should come shortly.

What Would Have Happened

Today I am wondering what would have happened to me by now if fifty years ago, some fluent talker had converted me to the theory of the eight-hour day and convinced me that it was not fair to my fellow workers to put forth my best efforts in my work.
I am glad that the eight-hour day had not been invented when I was a young man. If my life had been made up of eight-hour days I don't believe I could have accomplished a great deal.
The country would not amount to as much as it does if the young men of fifty years ago had been afraid they might earn more than they were paid.
There were shirkers in those days, to be sure, but they didn't boast of it.
The shirker tried to conceal or excuse
his shiftness and lack of ambition.
—Thomas A. Edison.

A Tongue Twister—Try It

Betty Botta bought some butter.
"But," she said "this butter's bitter."
But a bit of better butter.
Will make my butter better."
So she bought a bit of better,
Better than the bitter butter,
And it made her butter better.
So 'twas better Betty Botta
Bought a bit of better butter.

A man was walking through a back lane in Blaimore a few nights ago, with a bottle of Hiram Walke's best on his hip. He eyed a provincial police officer approaching him and threw the bottle to one side. The police did not notice this trick, approached the man, felt his pockets and felt not a little disappointed. After the police had gone his way, the fellow reposeded that bottle and with some chums engaged its contents.
No doubt, there were anxious moments for both parties.

Last week we reported that A.
E. Ferguson, undertaker, was moving from Coleman to Blaimore. This was a slight error, as Mr.
Ferguson is operating undertaking parlors both at Coleman and Blaimore.

POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT REGULATION

It is not the wish of the Post Office Department that local post office walls should become an advertising medium. Notices of various kinds are to be posted thereon but it is a recognized fact by the Department that "advertising" distinctly belongs to the publisher's field and local postmasters will be saved the unpleasantness of a refusal if the public keep this fact in mind.

An increased demand by the public for information regarding land settlement is reported by the Department of the Interior at Ottawa. This increased interest is attributed to the fact that Crown Lands in Western Canada within fifteen miles of a railway, which heretofore have been reserved for returned men, became available for civilian entry on the 1st of May.

Besides Crown Lands that may be available, it is estimated that there are about 200,000 quarter-sections of privately owned lands lying idle in the Prairie provinces, most of them within easy reach of railways. The same condition applies, though in a lesser degree, to the older provinces of Canada. This condition is not, however, due to lack of value in the land itself—on the contrary and particularly in the Prairie provinces,
much of this idle land is rich virgin soil—for when once considered Canada's vast land area and its comparatively small population it is at once apparent that a large portion of the area in private ownership must be unoccupied and available for purchase at reasonable prices.

In addition to its activities in con-

Boy With Patched Pants

I met a little fellow the other day, says a writer in the Iowa Register, about 8 years old, who wanted to sell me a suspense, and he started away. As he did so, I noticed a new "heat patch" on his clothes, right where patches usually are on boy's clothes. I looked him back and bought the paper—because of the patch. Whenever I see a patch like that I let my imagination go, and can picture a woman—now none with a rather tired look about her, one of those tired-but-happy looks, and she is sitting by a worn table putting a patch on her little boy's pants. She seems to take a great pride in the work and as she comes to the end of it she rounds many a corner, as if she wished to prolong the excuse to handle the garment. Then, after biting off the thread she holds then up arm's length with a look which only that kind of a woman ever has, and sighing, lays them over a chair at the foot of the little bed, and bending over a little shiver shakes her head and says,
"Do you know you are a lot of trouble,
you little scamp? God bless my little boy—God bless him. If there is an answer to prayer, and there surely is, God must bless the little boy with the patch—and doubtless bless the little mother who put it on."

HOUSING AS PUBLIC UTILITY

The Philadelphia Chapter of the American Institute of Architects, a body to which no taint of radicalism has ever attached, has lately declared that houses for those who earn low wages can no longer be built anywhere in the United States at a cost which will permit them to be either sold or rented without loss, and that it is undesirable, either from a social or individual system, or even particular industry, which fails to make possible adequate shelter, food, clothing and recreation for all of its operatives is unworthy to exist. The Chapter proposes that wherever in the United States low wages or salaries be legalized as a public utility; that the manufacture of this class of homes as a profitable industry should cease if theory as it has already ceased in fact; and that the Government, state and local, should at once adopt measures making possible the supply of this prime necessity of life. —Canadian Engi-

The Country Life Problem

Not long ago, says a writer in the "Problems of Democracy" department of The Literary Digest, a well-known traveler and writer was being shown through the immense Capitol building of a Middle-Western State. "Just see the great army of officials we employ," said his guide, "every man of them was born on a farm." And then the visitor was shown through a quarter of the city where "you can go a mile and see but the homes of retired farmers." Quoth the guide, "This is a wonderful farming State."

Yet, comments the Literary Digest writer, the boys on its farms dream of jobs in town, and old folks on its farms dream of homes in town, and, as soon as they can arrange it, big somebody else to run the farm, and move away. In less "wonderful" farming States, meanwhile, you occasionally see farms abandoned outright, but even the custom of farming by proxy is deplorable.

In "The Country Life Movement," Mr. L. H. Bailey observes, "Farming by proxy or by any absentee method is as disastrous in the long run as the doing of any other business by proxy. I hold that it is essential that the very best people live actually on the land. The crops are there. The livestock is there. The machinery is there. All the investment is in the place itself. If this business is to be most effective, a good man must be constantly with it and manage it. A farm is not like a store or a factory that it shut up at night and on Sunday. The more difficult and complex the farming business becomes, the greater will be the necessity that a good man remain with it."

"The fundamental need," declares Mr. Bailey, "is to place effectively educated men and women in the open country." In his opinion all else depends on this. No formal means can be of any permanent avail until men and women of vision and with trained minds are at hand to work out the plans in an orderly and systematic way. It is a school subject. It is recognized to be such in the schools course of studies, in the minds of the people, and in educationalists and legislators. It has found its way into the high schools. In Western Canada it is the outstanding department in our Universities.

But do the young people thus trained return to the open country? Some of them, of course, but a lamentably small percentage of the total. Why not a larger number? Does farming pay? Is life in the open country so attractive? Farming has its off years, and sometimes series of years, when the financial returns are not commensurate with the effort put forth. But the same thing is true of business generally. And assuredly farming today pays better than in the days of our grandparents. There are still many hardships in the more remote and pioneer districts, and conditions generally may not be quite so favorable as in the years before the war, but neither are conditions in the cities as favorable, with thousands of men out of employment. Such a situation is, however, only temporary; it will be overcome both in city and country.

Life in the open country is not as attractive as it should be for other reasons. The recreative life of the country community greatly needs to be stimulated. Not only games and recreation days need to be encouraged, but the spirit of relief from continuous and deadening toil must be encouraged.

The country population needs to be lived up to. How is this awakening to be brought about? The small towns and villages, which are the real centres of all country districts, and whose very existence depends upon their surrounding farming communities, have a duty, and an opportunity in this respect. In his admirable book, "The Little Town," Mr. H. P. Douglass devotes a chapter to "The Town's Country." Says Mr. Douglass, "The town's country is the area which trades with it; which makes common cause with it in buying and selling, in credit and transportation facilities." Its typical figures are the retail merchant, the banker, the postmaster, the doctor, the implement agent, the railway agent.

Moreover, the town's country is the area which comes to it for play, education and worship. Here are the country's moving pictures, its exhibition and sports grounds, and its Chautauques. The country's high schools are here, and most of its ministers of religion live here. Here, though the farmer may not directly share in them, are those social and athletic activities which he imitates and possibly envies. Most of the social organizations to which he may belong centre here.

Therefore, the small town has a duty to its own particular "country." And the opportunity is as great as the duty. Among the chief needs of the farming community today is wholesome recreation. There is little community life in the open country, except what centres in the small towns and villages. Its lack constitutes what one has called the intolerable condition of country life. In almost every other respect, life in the open country has improved. It is a less isolated life. Railways, telephones, automobiles have greatly relieved loneliness. But is it a jollier life? No one pretends that it is. There is no play for children; no recreation for the young folks. Yet it must be made jollier or we shall see more and more farms abandoned or farmed by proxy and more and more farm people moving to the city.

If we are to "place effectively educated men and women in the open country," men and women "of vision and with trained minds"—if we are to place them there and keep them there, we must promise them not only prosperity, but a jovial, sociable, merry existence which they will honestly prefer to life in town.

Large Quantity Has Gone Over the Line Recently.

Twenty-five carloads of Alberta cattle were also sent across the border recently.

Mrs. A. Crawford Tells How Cuticura Healed Little Girl

"My little girl's trouble started with small pimples on the back of her head and they spread down her back. The pimples were itched and red and they itched and burned terribly. She scratched and irritated them and they later developed into some eruptions. Her hair fell out and became thin and dry, and scales fell off on her clothing."

"I used a free sample of Cuticura and the pimples commenced to dry up. I bought more and when I had used one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment she was healed." (Signed) Mrs. Alonzo Crawford, 83 Parker St., Bangor, Maine, Jan. 22, 1920.

FRACTURED JAWS.
Copyright, 1921, by Rea Proctor McGee.

Usually when a jaw is fractured everybody knows about it. But there are cases—in fact a good many cases—where a jaw has been fractured either by a fall, or in boxing, or football, or in almost any sport—and the patient has never known it, and it is only by an X-ray examination for some other condition that the scar is discovered and it is realized that at some previous period the jaw had been broken.

Usually a broken jaw is very difficult to hold in place until it unites. Where the pieces are not properly held, there will be a fibrous union. The fibrous union is a sort of a cartilage or gristle that grows across the broken spot and makes an extra joint. This condition, of course, cripples the jaw so that mastication is almost impossible.

When a jaw is fractured it is absolutely necessary to get a good bony union, and that the jaw will be as strong as ever.

During the war there were a great many cases of fractured jaws from gunshot wounds, from explosion and shell fire, falling out of airplanes and so forth, and much was learned in regard to bone formation that was not known before.

When a jaw has been injured and remains tender for any length of time, it should be X-rayed very carefully to find out whether or not there has been a fracture.

Fractures of the upper jaw are more rare than fractures of the lower, because the upper jaw is not exposed as in the lower jaw.

The lower jaw is more of a buffer than any bone in the body and is saved from breaking by its very wide movements.

Fractures of the upper jaw usually heal more quickly than do fractures of the lower; and also, the upper jaw, being surrounded by muscles that tend to pull it into place, does not present the usual difficulty in splinting.

Fracture of the upper jaw will cause very severe disfigurement if it is allowed to go unattended.

Necessary That Canada Should Grow Nation Must Have Men, But Not Undesirable Ones.

Both war debt and the railway situation require that Canada must grow, in the opinion of the Journal of the Canadian Business Association, which says that to grow up to these we must "people the vacant spaces." However rigorous the United States may be in immigration regulations, due to the fact that they are approaching the saturation point, Canada's policy, the Journal states, can well afford to differ from that of her neighbor.

"It is well to remember," the Journal adds, "that a prosperous and advancing country has a greater digestion capacity than a stagnating one. Canada's policy, the Journal states, can well afford to differ from that of her neighbor."

Heart Weak, Nerves Shattered After the "Flu."

In a large majority of cases those who survive the last epidemic of Spanish influenza were left with weak hearts, shattered nerves, impoverished blood, and the whole system has been left in such a general weakened and exhausted condition that it has been impossible to get back your old health and strength.

If you are in this condition there is only one thing to do; take a course of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and see how quickly your heart will be strengthened, your nerves toned up and your blood enriched.

Mrs. W. W. Pearce, 14 Seaton St., Toronto, Ont., writes: "I was left with a weak heart in a random condition after the 'flu.' My nerves were badly shattered, and I had such pains in my legs I could not sleep at night. I took several doctors' medicines without getting any better. My husband got me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after I took one box I got relief; after taking six boxes have been well and not bothered since."

Burbank's Latest

Has Evolved New Wheat Which Is Exceedingly Early.
After experiments extending over eleven years, Luther Burbank, the great Californian horticulturist, is said to have evolved a "quality" wheat, containing over fourteen per cent. gluten, an astonishing improvement in this grain. The new type of wheat has a very large white, flinty kernel and produces a very white flour.

The new wheat, according to Mr. Burbank, is an exceedingly early wheat, being the earliest of some four or five hundred varieties which he has been growing. It has been tested against a sixty-eight of the best wheats in the world, and has exceeded them all in yield, uniformity and all other desirable characteristics. The growth is strong, being four feet on good ordinary soil, it thrives unusually well, and on ordinary valley soil, with special cultivation, care, or fertilizing, produced this summer at the rate of 49.88 bushels per acre, every plant and every kernel being uniform, as this wheat was originally grown from one single kernel.

She Feels As Fine As A Growing Girl, Says This Winnipeg Woman

"My heart goes out to anyone suffering from indigestion and nervousness, and I want to tell them all about this grand Tanlac, for it is the medicine that relieved me of these troubles and restored my health," said Mrs. S. Jackson, wife of a prominent business man, residing at 429 Agnes St., Winnipeg.

"Before I got Tanlac I was in a dreadfully nervous condition. I couldn't stand the least little noise, and at times I became so upset I was afraid I would go into hysterics. My appetite was so poor I had no desire to eat, and couldn't relish my meals anywhere."

"Well, Tanlac has rid me of all my troubles and put me in such fine health I feel as fine as when I was a growing girl. I eat good and hearty and enjoy my meals, and never have a care or worry. Why, I feel as fine as anybody could want to feel, and I can't help but be delighted and enthusiastic over this wonderful Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

A livestock shipment of importance to Central Alberta breeders has just been made from Edmonton consisting of four carloads of choice steers, all weighing about 1400 pounds, bought from their original owners at 85c cents a pound, which have left for England. This is the first commercial consignment ever made from the Edmonton district overseas, and it is expected to be the precursor of a regular traffic.

Still Working On Lignite Problem

Additional $280,000 Needed For Building and Further Experimenting.

Experiments are still being made at the plant operating at Binfield, Sask., under the Lignite Utilization Board. "The operations have not yet reached the stage of production on a commercial basis," says T. Mc. Molloy, provincial commissioner of Labor and Industries. "Uncertainty of delivery of material makes it impossible to tell when the plant will be in operation and when that is accomplished it will still remain to determine the commercial possibilities of the various methods with which they have been experimenting."

The experiments are being carried out under the joint direction of the Federal, Manitoba and Saskatchewan Governments. The board has found that it now needs an additional $280,000 to complete the buildings and go on with the experiments and the Saskatchewan Government has agreed to contribute $70,000 of this amount.

HON. T. A. CRERAR SAYS GET WILD LANDS LISTED

Leader of National Progressive Party Endorses Principle of Legislation Requested by Western Canada Colonization Association and Its Multitude of Supporters Throughout Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

Hon. T. A. Crerar's statement reads: "The proposal of the Western Canada Colonization Association that an inventory of unoccupied land be taken under Governmental auspices in the prairie provinces, and that the owners of such land should be obliged to fix a price at which they would sell to incoming settlers, is, I think, an excellent one. The fact that the price to be fixed would be made the basis for assessment of the special Wild Lands Tax would keep the owner of the land down to a price that was reasonably fair. Land speculation, and for that matter speculation in other natural resources, has been one of the worst evils this country has suffered from.

It is generally agreed that Canada needs more people but an immigration policy can only have permanent success if the people who are already living here are relieved of the artificial handicaps under which they have labored in the past, of which the speculation in land is one. The more people that come into the country the higher the land speculation raises the price. In the best interests therefore of the people of Canada the proposal that land held out of use should be made available for those who want to use it is sound and deserves the support of all good Canadian citizens. This step is in line with what the original farmers of Western Canada have advocated for many years."

Coal Problem One Of Transportation

Canada's Manufacturing Industries Face Removed Coal Supply.
Ottawa.—Canada has immense supplies of coal in both eastern and western fields, but 70 per cent. of her manufacturing industries are located in Ontario and Quebec, where no coal is produced. Therefore the difficulty becomes one largely of transportation. This was the evidence given to the special House Committee on fuel resources by Joseph G. Hudson, of the Department of Mines.

Mr. Hudson declared that at Sheep Creek, Alberta, there was a large deposit of coal almost equal to anthracite.

This telegram, according to the correspondent, said: "It is of the greatest importance that the 'green' cause in Dublin should get 50,000 pounds through Krasin." (Krasin is the Soviet Minister of Trade and Commerce.)

Bern.—Many Dutch newspaper correspondents in Bern and other Swiss cities have been ordered by the Government to leave Switzerland, "their stay no longer being considered necessary."

Belfast.—Typewritten announcements have been posted in Dundalk and the surrounding district stating that "through the efforts of the president of the United States, a loan of many millions of pounds have been raised in the United States for the relief of the Irish nation," and that "all persons who have been in person or property victims of English aggression shall receive due compensation from the treasury of the republic."

Cease Refining Raw Sugar

Companies Will Not Contract For Beets at High Price.
Chatham, Ont.—The mammoth plant of the Dominion Sugar Company has ceased refining raw sugar, according to a statement of an official of the company. Canada To See "All Star" Football

Tour of Scottish Team is Creating Wildest Enthusiasm.
When the officers and members of the Scottish "All Star" football team arrive in Halifax on May 18th, the desire of all Canadian football men to have an Old Country professional, first-class team of players come to this country, will be replete.

The Dominion Football Association, through President Dan MacNeil and Secretary-Treasurer D. W. Roy, have completed final arrangements after several month's efforts and development, and are now on their way to the Atlantic seaboard to welcome the party on behalf of the Association which they represent.

The party of sixteen players, who have been chosen for this long deferred missionary football enterprise to cement the ties of the Empire and bind Canada and Scotland closer in the bonds of sport and brotherhood, left Glasgow, May 10, and will sail from Liverpool on the Cunard liner, S.S. Cameronia. Upon their arrival in Canada, the Canadian National Railways will take charge of transporting the party to the Pacific coast and return. In order that games may be played in the principal cities in Canada and as the tour is a missionary effort for the sake of sport, fostered in an Imperial spirit, for the good of our Dominion, making the enterprise "National," it was only fitting that the National systems should be utilized. This railway is bending every effort to make the tour a pleasant one for the visitors and special facilities will be placed at their disposal by the National line.

The forthcoming tour is creating the wildest enthusiasm in Canada and in addition to the matches played here, the programme will include four games in the chief cities in the States. Matches in Canada will be played at Halifax on May 18th; Montreal, May 24th; Ottawa, May 21st; Hamilton, May 26th; Toronto, May 28th; Fort William-Port Arthur, June 1st; Winnipeg, June 4th; Regina, June 6th; Saskatoon, June 8th; Calgary, June 11th; Edmonton, June 14th; Vancouver, June 18th. On the return trip, they will play at Prince Albert on June 28th; Winnipeg, July 1st; Toronto, July 6th; International game at Montreal on July 9th. The four games in the chief cities in the United States will be played between 9th and 26th.

The officials taking part in this patriotic football mission include Col. J. B. Wilson, V.D., chairman of the Third Lanark Club; Andrew Mitchell and Thomas Sloan, two of the directors; and Mr. Council, who is manager of the undertaking. The lineup and personnel of the team is:

Craig Brown—Centre half-back of the Motherwell club, who came into the team when Cringan, the Celtic star, was forced to withdraw. Is credited with being a "team in himself." Old Country export, and is certain to make a lasting impression.

John Marshall—One of the two players from English clubs, expected to tour with the Scottish team. Plays for Bedouham, and is credited by "Middleham" as being the "greatest right-back of modern times. Starred in recent international.

James E. Gordon—Captain Scotland's team on several occasions. Formerly starred for Rangers but has been performing for Dumbfries Athletic during the current season. Probably the most versatile player in Britain. Starred in recent international.

Alex. Bennett—Albion Rover, one of the finest and neatest dribblers playing the game in Scotland. Made his great reputation while a member of the Glasgow Rangers, and should delight Canadian soccer fans.

Alex. Troup—Dundee youngster, who has been the sensation of the football season. He has been the star performer for the Dens Park outfit, but reached the pinnacle of fame when he featured a recent international game. Is "slippery as an eel."

D. R. ROY, Secretary-Treasurer, Dominion Football Association.

Jimmy Quinn—On retired list. Gained fame as centre forward for Celtic and Scotland. Of the aggressive, bottling type, he packed a wicked shot. Probably the best centre Scotland has produced. May play here occasionally.

James McMenemy—The dandy little inside winger, who contributed much to the success of Patrick Thistle in the recent Scottish Cup, and was frequently capped for Scotland. Known as the "Napoleon of Football."

Paddy Crossan—No Scottish team would be complete without one member from Edinburgh. "Auld Reekie's" representative is Paddy Crossan, a back of the first water, rugged as he looks, but a veritable stonewall in the pitch. Possesses a powerful kick.

Alex. McNair—Veteran right back of the Glasgow Celtic, hero of many international battles and considered one of the "best" defence men playing the game in the Old Country. Of the "old war-horse variety." Never beaten!

Jimmy Brownlie—Famous goal-keeper, who can be classed as a veteran. Has been faithful custodian for Third Lanark for many years, and has seen much service in international matches. One of the best exponents of last-line defence in the world—"Daddy of them all!"

May Secure Truce in Silesia

Report Hostilities Suspended As Result of Negotiations.
London.—It is reported that negotiations between the Inter-Allied Commission in Upper Silesia and Adalbert Korfanty, leader of the Polish insurgents in that area, resulted in the suspension of hostilities, says a despatch to the Central News from Warsaw.

It was agreed, according to this report, that the insurgents would occupy a line of demarcation agreed upon and remain in the positions pending final settlement of the Upper Silesia question, which is still pending in Allied councils, where it rested following the taking of the recent plebiscite in this area in dispute between Poland and Germany. The industrial territory, which has been largely over-run by the Poles, therefore, would remain under Polish occupancy.

Cannot Support Coalition Government

Scottish Member Blames Lloyd George Government For Irish Reprisals.

London.—Considerable interest has been aroused in political circles by the announcement of Sir Godfrey Collins, Member of Parliament for Greenock, Scotland, that he cannot give further support to the Lloyd George Government.

In a statement to his constituents, Sir Godfrey says that when he was elected he thought that the Coalition Government deserved a fair trial, but that he was now obliged to face the fact that the Coalition has failed to make good. "Taxation provided for in the third budget since the armistice is in some respects heavier than at the end of the war, and authoritative relations have disclosed the responsibility of the Government for the reprisals in Ireland. He says also that he cannot countenance the Government's extravagance or its policy of reprisals in Ireland.

Canada Spends Less On Navy And Militia Than Other Countries

Canadian Budget Will Not Affect Exchange

Announced Change Will Have No Influence On Rate.

New York.—The general opinion of the Canadian bankers here and of business men interested in the trade between the two countries is that the recent budget announcement of Sir Henry Drayton are not likely to have any immediate effect upon the exchange situation.

The discount rate on Canadian dollars has gone up a point in the past 24 hours, being quoted at 10-3-4 per cent. but representatives of the Canadian bank agencies here could offer no explanation other than that the rate has been subject to frequent fluctuations of late.

Sterling exchange is practically unchanged. According to Canadian financial men here the tariff changes which were forecast in the budget are not a nature likely to affect the exchange market, and the announced change in the method of estimating valuation can have no immediate influence upon the rate.

Plumbers Object To Labor Saving Device

Does Not Provide Enough Work For Installing Plumbers.

New York.—Testimony that a modern type of wash bowl, requiring 50 to 60 per cent. less labor for installation, had been barred from new buildings in New York by the Master Plumbers' Association, was given when the joint legislative committee investigating building combines resumed hearings after a week's recess.

One master plumber was alleged to have said the traps of the bowl would have to be taken apart instead of shipped as a unit, in order to provide more work for installing plumbers.

Progressing Towards Peace

Sinn Fein Representatives Have Brought Proposals to London.

London.—The negotiations for a settlement of the Irish controversy are proceeding smoothly, according to the Daily Mail, which says accredited representatives of the Sinn Fein have been in London this week and that they brought certain proposals to the Government's notice.

"It is understood," the Daily Mail says, "that there have been interviews with the Prime Minister. He certainly has been made acquainted with Eamon De Valera's views, and an optimistic feeling prevailing in Government circles."

Germany Unconditionally Accepts Reparation Terms

Prolonged Cheering Greeted Announcement in the House of Commons.

Berlin.—The Reichstag accepted the Allied ultimatum by a vote of 221 to 175, thus yielding to the final demands of the Allied Powers, and in so doing, agreed to fulfil the terms of the Treaty of Versailles, "to the capacity of the nation to do so."

Dr. Wirth, Centrist leader, finally succeeded in forming a coalition cabinet, composed of Centrists, Majority Socialists and Democrats, which confronted by grave necessity, speedily decided that acceptance of the ultimatum was the only course.

In making this announcement the new chancellor asked for an immediate cessation of hostilities, which followed, the Government was sustained. The Allied ultimatum required a definite reply, based on "Yes" or "No." No conditional reply would be entertained, and its ultimatum was formulated to expire on the night of May 12.

Berlin.—The Reichstag assembled at 9 o'clock and Dr. Wirth announced the formation of a new cabinet, with himself as chancellor and foreign minister.

Ottaga.—Naval and military expenditures of the Government were defended in the House of Commons when Hon. Hugh Guthrie, minister of militia, participated in the budget debate.

Mr. Guthrie, who represented Canada at the financial conference held under the League of Nations at Brussels last summer, quoted statistics to show that Canada's expenditures on naval and military defence were lower than any country in the world. In Mr. Guthrie's views, they were low as possible, other countries took rather ridiculous. On a basis of population estimated at 8,000,000 people, the per capita expenditure for defence, including that for militia, navy and air forces, was only $1.89. The percentage of annual revenue to be devoted to defence purposes this year was 3.5 per cent.

Defence expenditure, including that for militia, navy and air force, and excluding Royal Canadian Mounted Police and the civilian air operations for the present year, was set out in the estimates at $15,215,000. Taken on a basis of population and estimating that there were nine million people in Canada this was a per capita expenditure of $1.69. On the basis of a population of eight million people the per capita expenditure for defence purposes would only $1.89 per head. If the cost of maintaining the Mounted Police were added to that, Canada would still have the lowest per capita expenditure of any country in the civilized world. Figures submitted to the Brussels conference show the per capita expenditure for defence purposes of various countries as follows:

Australia, $6.13; New Zealand, $3.80; South Africa, $5.55; United Kingdom, $23.35; United States, $13.15, not including the upkeep of the national guard; Argentina, $2.72; Brazil, $2; Chile, $5.06; Denmark, $10.10; Holland, $4.08; Norway, $4.75; Portugal, $4.58; Spain, $2.43; and Switzerland, $2.20. Figures for Germany, Hungary, Russia and other European countries had not been received by the conference.

The percentage of annual revenue to be devoted to defence purposes this year was 3.5 per cent. Of every hundred dollars in revenue Canada would spend $3.50 on the whole defence of this country. In 1911 we had spent $9.50 of every hundred dollars in revenue.
